Complete the activities in one of the following two areas:
Area 1 - Expedition - 'A journey with a purpose' Take part in an expedition over two days (including a night away) with at least three friends. Be involved in the planning of the expedition, complete relevant training and be properly prepared. The expedition may be on foot, canoe, cycle or sailing boat. Other options may be appropriate, and should be agreed beforehand.
Play a full part in the team
Journey for at least 4 hours each day
Use a map to keep track of where you are
Stay overnight at a hostel or other suitable venue, or camp overnight at a suitable site
Cook the evening meal & breakfast
Achieve at least one goal, agreed with your Leader before the expedition
Area 2 - Exploration - 'A purpose with a journey' Take part in an exploration over two days (including a night away) with at least three friends, and report or present your findings. You must be involved in the planning of the exploration, complete relevant training and be properly prepared. You must have completed some initial research into the subject to be investigated. The challenge should take place somewhere you have never been before or don't know well. The journey may be on foot, or by public transport, canoe, cycle, aircraft, wheelchair or boat. Other options may be possible and should be agreed beforehand. Note: The 'exploration' element should last 4-5 hours over the 2 days. It could be anything from an investigation into bird life to visiting museums in a town.
Play a full part in the team
Travel for at least 90 minutes to a hostel, campsite or other suitable venue
Use a map to keep track of where you are
Conduct the exploration within an agreed area (discussed with a Leader in advance) collecting evidence and information for the report or presentation
Stay overnight at the venue and cook the evening meal and breakfast
Complete the exploration before returning home
Have the report or presentation ready within four weeks of the exploration
Completed (date)
