Outdoor Challenge

These cards are designed to help adults keep a record of Scouts' badges – they should not be used as a programme planning tool. To download more of these cards, visit clwydscouts.org.uk/resources

Name of Scout
Scouts should take an active part in a residential experience, preferably camping, for at least two nights. During the event, they should take part in many of the following activities: (This list gives an idea of the type & style of the activities that the camp should include. Depending on the activity, there may be extra ideas that could be included, which can be discussed in the Troop Forum)
Help to pitch and strike your tent
Light a fire and cook at least one meal using an open fire
Set up a suitable stove, and prepare a meal using a stove
Demonstrate personal hygiene
Keep your belongings organised and tidy within your accommodation
Maintain a tidy and orderly site
Take part in a wide game
Take part in a campfire or other entertainment
Build a simple pioneering project
Build a useful camp gadget
Explore the environment of your camp
With others, successfully complete a two hour activity or project
Provide a service commitment to the site for about an hour
In addition to the above, demonstrate the following basic emergency aid skills during the nights away experience:
Understand the initial actions to take in the event of an accident
Understand the importance of getting adult help and when to call the emergency services
Know how to treat minor cuts, burns and scalds, stings and insect bites
Completed (date)

Outdoor Challenge

These cards are designed to help adults keep a record of Scouts' badges – they should not be used as a programme planning tool. To download more of these cards, visit clwydscouts.org.uk/resources

Name of Scout
Scouts should take an active part in a residential experience, preferably camping, for at least two nights. During the event, they should take part in many of the following activities: (This list gives an idea of the type & style of the activities that the camp should include. Depending on the activity, there may be extra ideas that could be included, which can be discussed in the Troop Forum)
Help to pitch and strike your tent
Light a fire and cook at least one meal using an open fire
Set up a suitable stove, and prepare a meal using a stove
Demonstrate personal hygiene
Keep your belongings organised and tidy within your accommodation
Maintain a tidy and orderly site
Take part in a wide game
Take part in a campfire or other entertainment
Build a simple pioneering project
Build a useful camp gadget
Explore the environment of your camp
With others, successfully complete a two hour activity or project
Provide a service commitment to the site for about an hour
In addition to the above, demonstrate the following basic emergency aid skills during the nights away experience:
Understand the initial actions to take in the event of an accident
Understand the importance of getting adult help and when to call the emergency services
Know how to treat minor cuts, burns and scalds, stings and insect bites
Completed (date)																				